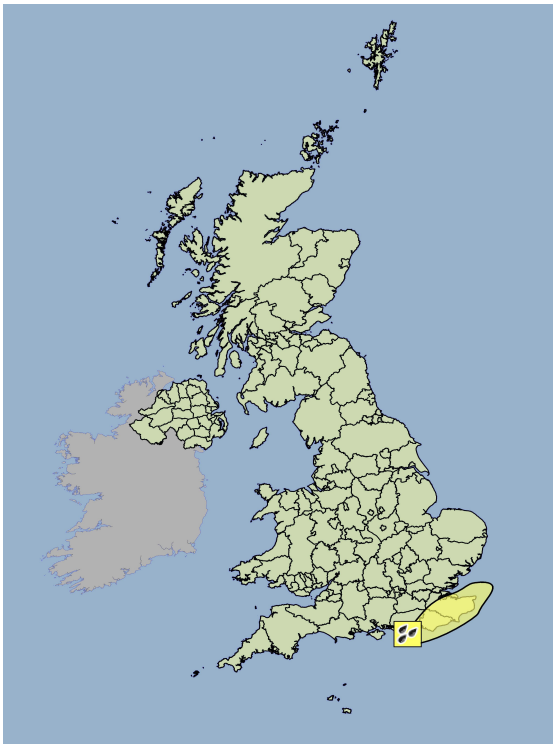
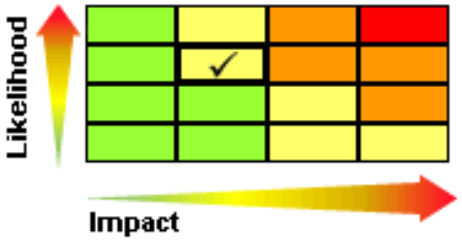
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An area of low pressure currently developing over the Atlantic Ocean will track close to southern England later Friday and early Saturday, bringing 15-25 mm of rain. Even at this late stage there is uncertainty about the extent of the heavier rain, which may only affect coastal districts of East Sussex and Kent.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 21:00 on Fri, 01st Nov 2013 until 03:00 on Sat, 02nd Nov 2013

A spell of heavy rain is expected to affect parts of southeast England during Friday and early Saturday. The public should be aware of the risk of localised flooding.
